

Website Launch

Good afternoon all,

I'm pleased to announce the launch of my new website www.paulsartwork.co.uk.

For many months I was carrying around a digital camera that contained photographs of my artwork in order to show people my work should they ask to see it. It was not practical for me to do this, as it was fairly big, and I would often forget to charge the batteries. I then invested in a phone camera, which proved to be rather successful; It allowed me to show potential buyers my work and store their details but unfortunately, the low resolution and small screen put many people off and they wanted to see a portfolio.

I then went back to the drawing board and make a quick portfolio. This too was helpful, but it was not practical to carry around. So I decided to design this website.

You can now view my work online, purchase paintings through a secure PayPal payment method (don't have to be a PayPal member), print off my portfolio, contact me and leave feedback on my guestbook.

I hope to continually update this website with new paintings, any art shows I visit and any general news I have. Please leave your comments on my guest book and feel free to contact me at any time if you have any questions; your feedback are very important to me.

I hope you enjoy the site.

Paul
